Nuts

The greatest care is exercised to secure those varieties which represent best quality, not only free from imperfection, but selected because of superior flavor. Particularly attractive in this connection are Louisiana very large Paper Shell Pecans, at 65c, and the California Budded Walnut, a new variety of a remarkably fine rich flavor, solid, with meat, at 30c pound. Truly a delight.

MANY CARED FOR
AT PUBLIC COSTStatement of Number and Cost in Annual Report of Board of Charities.

From the annual report of the State Board of Charities and Corrections, which has just gone to the Governor. It is shown that 86,685 persons were cared for during the year in public charitable and correctional institutions in Virginia. No account can be had, of course, of private charities, and it is probable some public institutions have not reported in full.

To aid these 86,685 persons, the sum of $2,846,722.47 was expended. This includes appropriations to hospitals for the insane and other institutions operated by the State, and the cost of keeping up orphanages operated by the State, and other agencies. It costs much more to care for a child in an orphanage, per capita, than it does to support and treat the insane.

A summary prepared by Secretary J. T. Mastin, of the Charities and Corrections Board, is as follows:

Charitable Institutions	Persons	Cost
Cared for in county and city almshouses	4,079	$ 249,372 45
Helped by public outdoor relief	6,674	$8,163 68
In hospitals for insane and epileptic colony	5,650	$53,974 00
At Catwaba Sanatorium	279	72,504 68
Children at State schools for deaf and blind	268	$5,183 46
Children at orphanages and other agencies	2,799	442,168 21
In homes for aged	639	31,124 59
Helped by organized charities	2,885	30,492 09
Helped by settlements	1,069	6,429 15
Helped by visiting nurses associations	5,363	19,542 58
Treated in free dispensaries	17,384	8,099 51
Treated in hospitals (part paying and free)	17,497	$49,572 14
Correctional Institutions
In county and city

Jails	17,411	$52,254 28
In State Penitentiary	1,994	124,126 42
At State Farm	295	36,482 26
On convict road force	1,028	105,811 67

STRICKEN AND DIES

J. S. Burbank, of New York, Architect for Monroe Terrace, Passes Away.

Stricken suddenly in at noon yesterday while at work, J. S. Burbank, of New York, supervising architect for the Monroe Terrace Apartments, was rushed to the Virginia Hospital and given emergency treatment, but died last night about 9 o'clock. The malady to which he fell a victim has baffled physicians. His body will be shipped to New York for burial.

Mr. Burbank comes here about three weeks ago from the office of A. C. Brown, in New York, the architect who designed the Monroe Terrace Apartments, the First National Bank Building and the Virginia Railway and Power Company. He was in the neighborhood of forty years of age, and was married.

Hurt in Runaway.

A Loving, twenty-six years old, of Elipsom, Va., was slightly hurt yesterday afternoon when his horse ran away and threw him from his wagon at Third and Preston Streets. Examination by Dr. H. T. Hawkins, City Hospital ambulance surgeon, showed that he had sustained a slight scalp wound.

SUIT TO DESTROY
"BUTTER TRUST"

The price is determined, and readers of quotations thus published, and particularly farmers and other small producers of butter and sellers of butter fat, are led to believe that the price quotations are prices established by actual bona fide sales and purchases of butter in open competition upon the Elgin Board of Trade.

The alleged combination and conspiracy is said to have been formed "some five years ago."

SORRY HE SAID IT

But Professor Doesn't Retract Statement That Clark Was Drunk.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

Washington, December 14.—Professor F. A. Barbour, of the Michigan State Normal School at Ypsilanti, Mich., is sorry he said that Speaker Champ Clark was drunk at a dinner given in Barbour's honor by the members of the Delta Chapter of the Greek Letter Society of Delta Tau Delta at Ann Arbor a few years ago. He is sorry, and no more, for although in response to the threat of the Speaker that he would come to Michigan and force by legal means the punishment of Professor Barbour unless he made public apology, the letter received to-day at the Speaker's office complies only with the letter of the Speaker's demand, not with the spirit.

Mr. Clark is flustered. He asked or thought he asked for a withdrawal of the allegations, but according to Professor Barbour's interpretation he asked for an apology, and that is what he received.

The Speaker is armed with an alibi to the charge of drunkenness at the Michigan celebration in the form of a packet of letters from his fraternity friends in Ann Arbor, in which it is related that on the occasion the Speaker did not take a "snifter" during his stay.

D. H. Mickle, T. E. Rankin and W. W. Flower, prominent citizens of Ann Arbor, corroborate the Speaker's claim.

It is one of the Speaker's proudest boasts that he has not tasted liquor for nearly ten years.

Miss Epps Improving.

Miss Nora Epps, who has been operated upon in the Virginia Hospital, is making satisfactory progress.

Mr. Leath Better.

O. C. Leath, who has been ill in the Virginia Hospital, is reported to be improving steadily.

Woman Hit by Car.

Mrs. Sarah D. Leary, of 100 Short Ninth Street, was hit by an Oakwood and Main Street car yesterday morning shortly after 7 o'clock while she was crossing Venable street. She was treated by Dr. E. D. Gurin and removed to her home. Her injuries were not regarded as serious.

Held on Assault Charge.

E. Harrison was arrested yesterday on a charge of feloniously assaulting Thomas Anderson.

DEMOCRATS SATISFIED

Trouble May Be Avoided by Settlement of President Pro Tem. Problem.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

Washington, December 14.—Senate Democrats were apparently well satisfied to-night with the composition of the presidency pro tempore of that body, which gives Bacon and Gallinger alternate possession of the chair. They believe this the easiest way of dealing with a situation precarious at all times. They hoped by thus offering the olive branch to the Republicans to insure less of bitterness when the fight over the Taft appointments shall be followed by a like struggle over nominations made by Wilson.

That the regular Republicans will make a determined war upon Wilson's nominations, in return for the Democratic obstruction of Taft favors in this session, was taken for granted to-night by the legislators. The next Senate will lack much of a Democratic two-thirds, and enough semi-independent Republicans are thought to resent the present tactics to make the future problematical for the new administration.

COPPER KING ON STAND

Heineze Is Witness in His Wife's Suit for Divorce.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

Nyac, N. Y., December 14.—Fritz Augustus Heineze, the Montana copper king, was a witness before Justice Tompkins at a special term of the Supreme Court in a suit for absolute divorce brought by his wife, Bernice Goldie Heineze, who was before her marriage a well-known actress. The papers in the suit were served on Heineze in New York City on November 16 last, but he decided not to contest the action and put in no answer, and he had no intention of appearing at the hearing until he was subpoenaed by his wife's attorneys, who hoped to get him to make admissions that might strengthen her case. Mrs. Heineze, before her marriage, was Miss Bernice Goldie, and she and Mr. Heineze were married in Brooklyn in August, 1910. They have one child, a son. A Miss Lavelle is named as co-respondent and a picture of Mr. Heineze and a woman taken together was produced in court to-day by Mrs. Heineze's counsel. Mr. Heineze was asked whether he could identify the picture, and he did identify himself in it, but when asked who the woman was he replied that he would not tell. The court suggested that he should give some good reason for not telling, but he positively refused any information.
